Further Info

Gunthers Lane is a Digital Showcase facility that has been constructed at the Reliance Bank premises in Bathurst. It features state of the art networks, computing and IT devices, with VR, 3D printing and large format displays. It serves as a showcase for emerging technologies relevant to business and the community; as a meeting place; and as a shopfront for a new Start Up Hub that is planned for upstairs. Both feature open-plan shared spaces and hot-desk working environments suitable for entrepreneurs starting new businesses, and innovative businesses looking to test or adopt new ideas and techniques.

Interns can help with enquiries from the public and companies about new technologies and business ideas; and in demonstrating these. They also can learn about what it takes to start a company, develop business plans and processes, adapt to/with the emerging digital technologies.

Suitable Interns may be involved with the IT technologies, while others might assist start-up companies with business techniques.
